Here were open fields and meadows and rows of cotton stretching endlessly in the warmth of the Southern sun. Here were great plantation homes, filled with songs of happiness, of another people caught up in a different way of life, a peaceful life of beauty and romance. Here also were battle-fields, drenched with the blood of brother fighting brother and the tears of a nation blinded by hate as a people fought for a way of life they knew and loved. Defeat, destruction, and the struggle to re-build broken dreams and lives—Here was a land of hardship and determination; a land that blossomed under the patient hands of time and effort. The open fields have given way to modern highways, to growing cities and steel skyscrapers. The tears shed now are for one nation, joined together under one flag, a nation filled with a sense of achievement and a confidence in an ever brightening future. And the future is important, but without yesterday, the stepping stones to tomorrow, there could have been no tomorrow.

We sincerely hope that this, the 1968 RAMEUR, will, through thoughts and pictures, awaken within each being a new sense of pride and belonging in the South—A Memory and a Challenge.

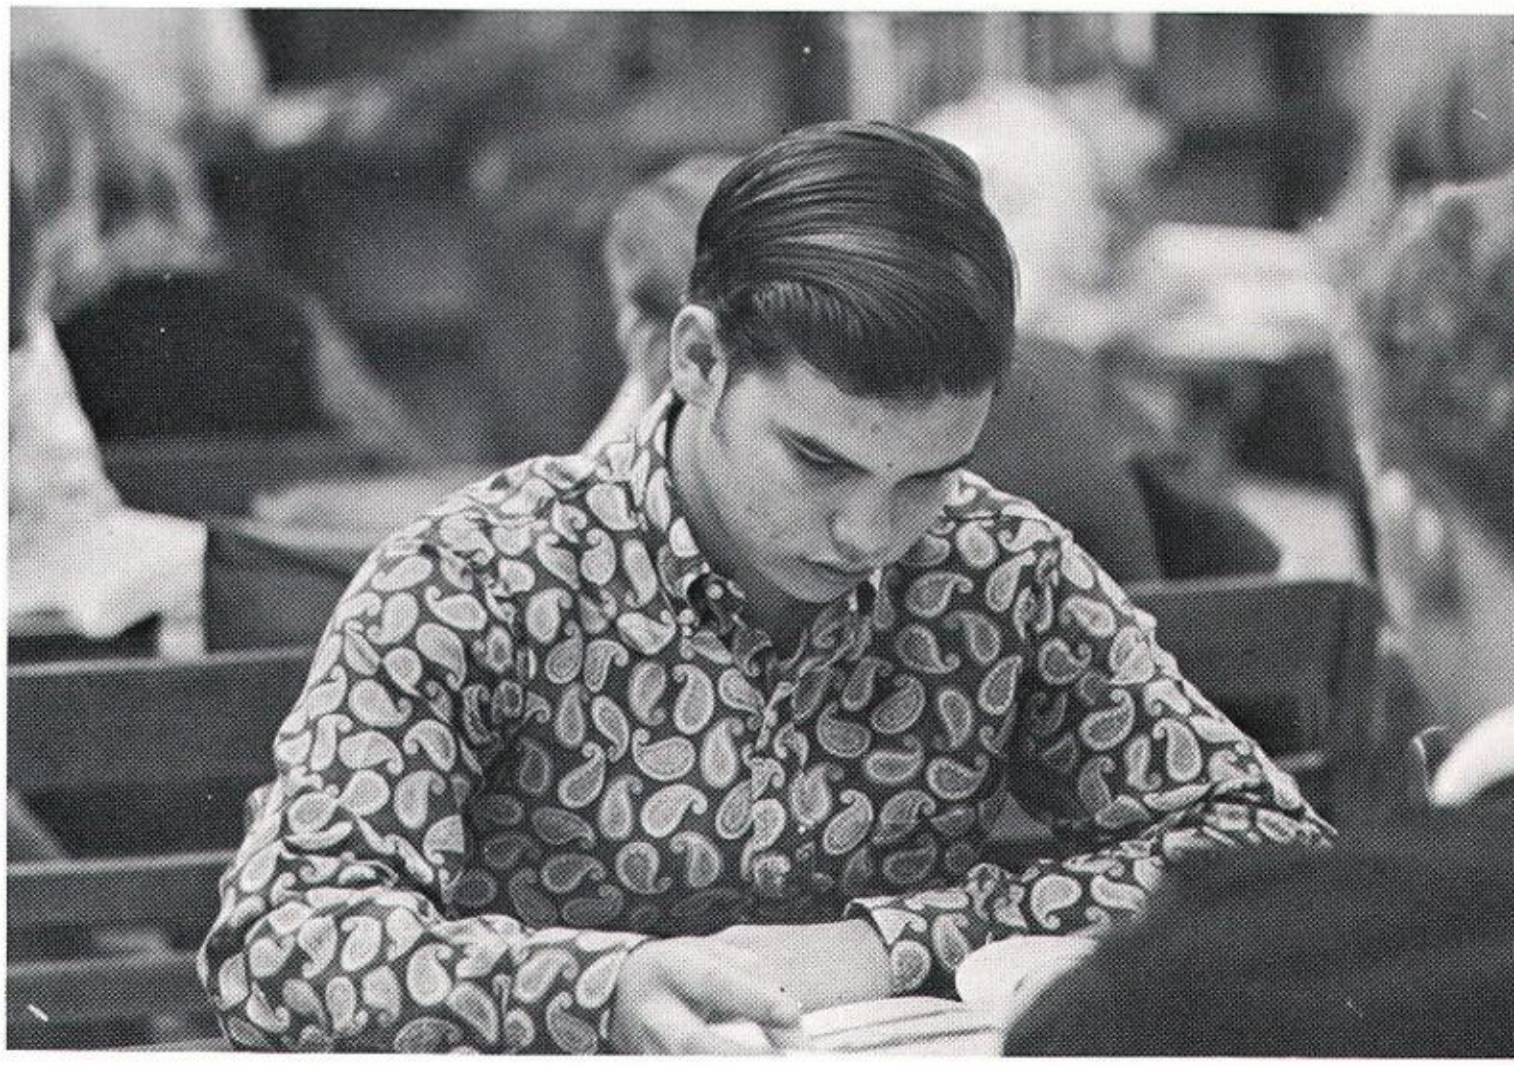
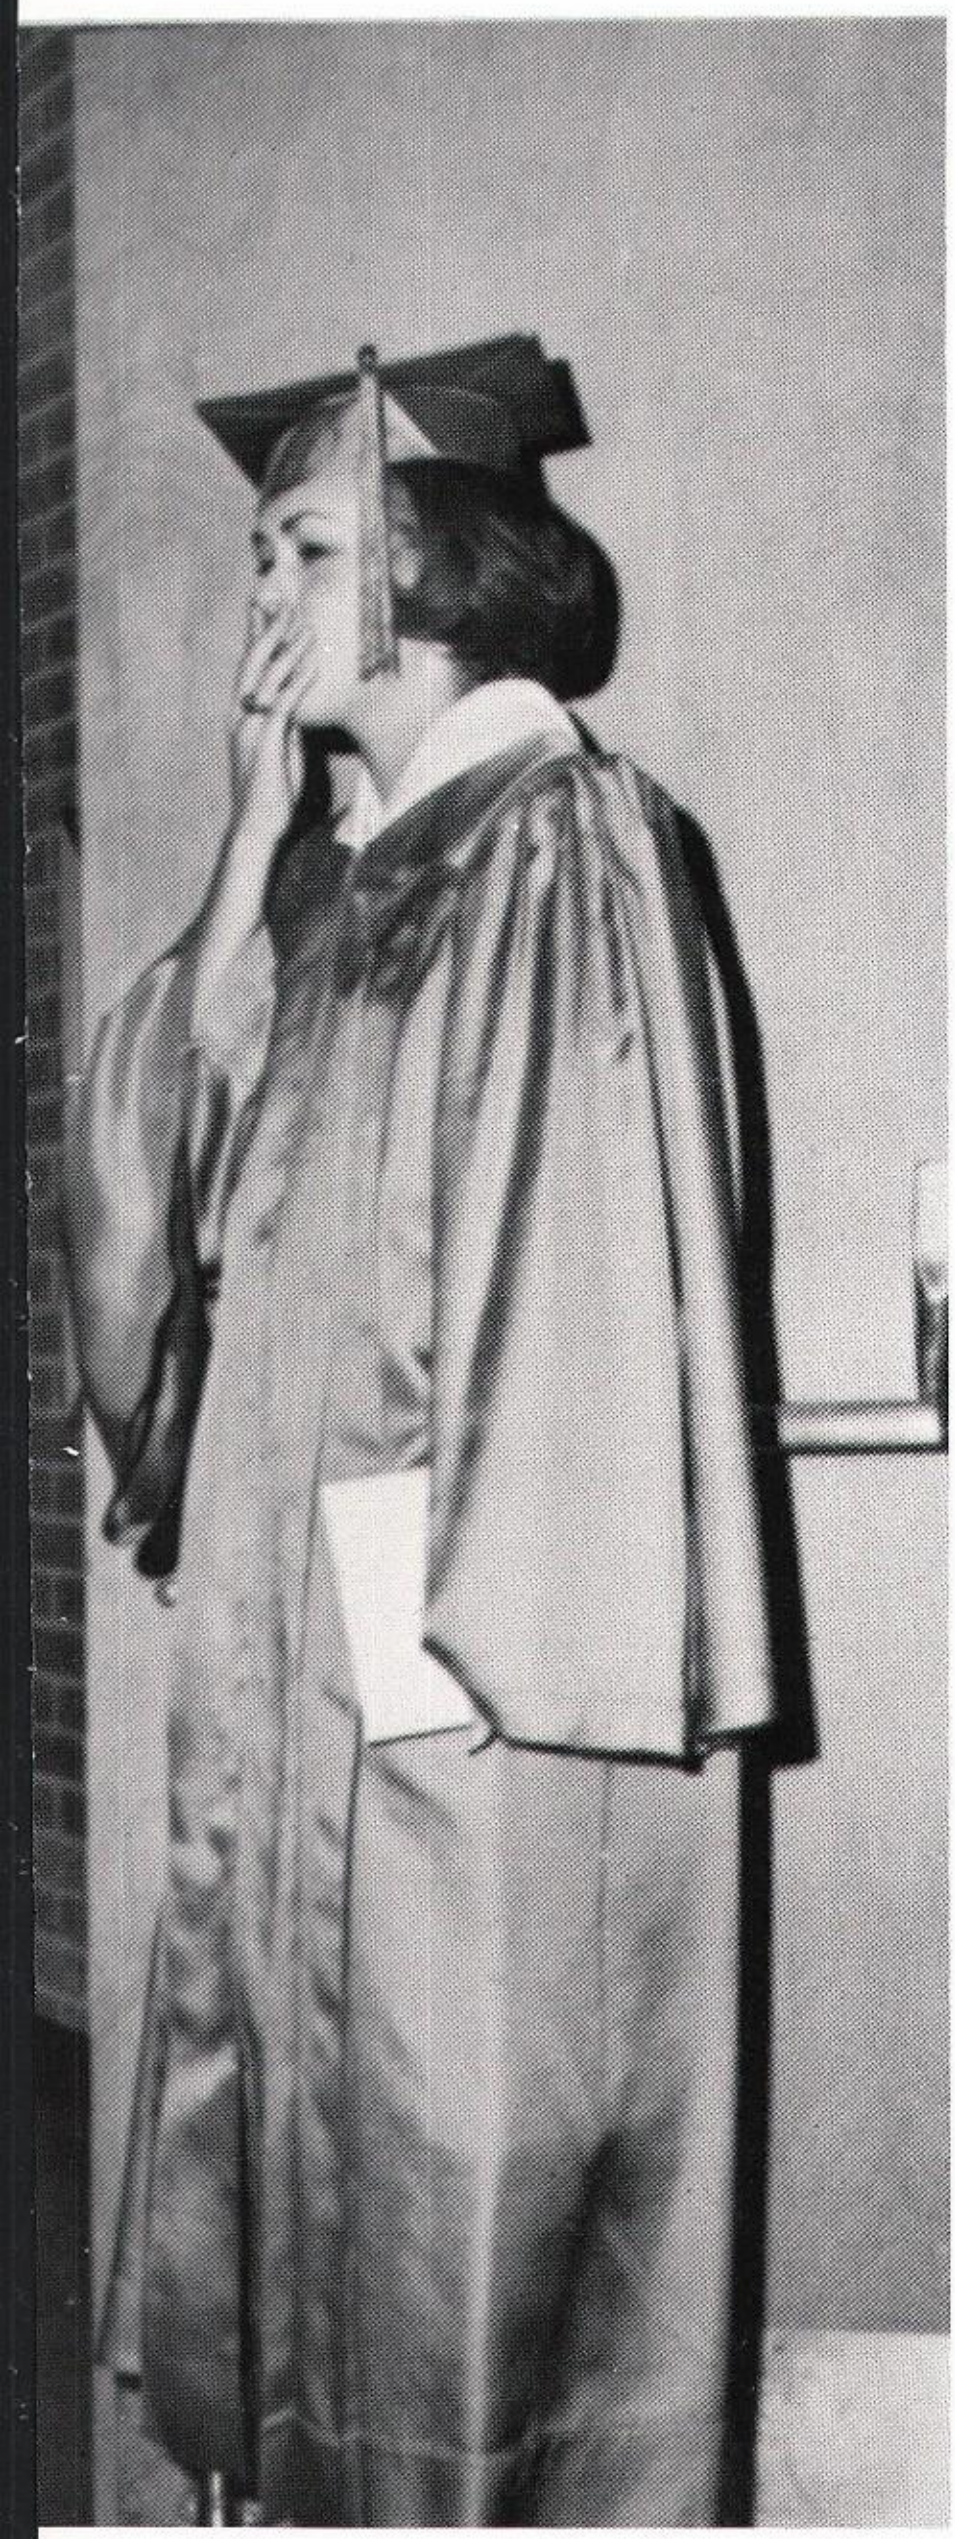
School Life

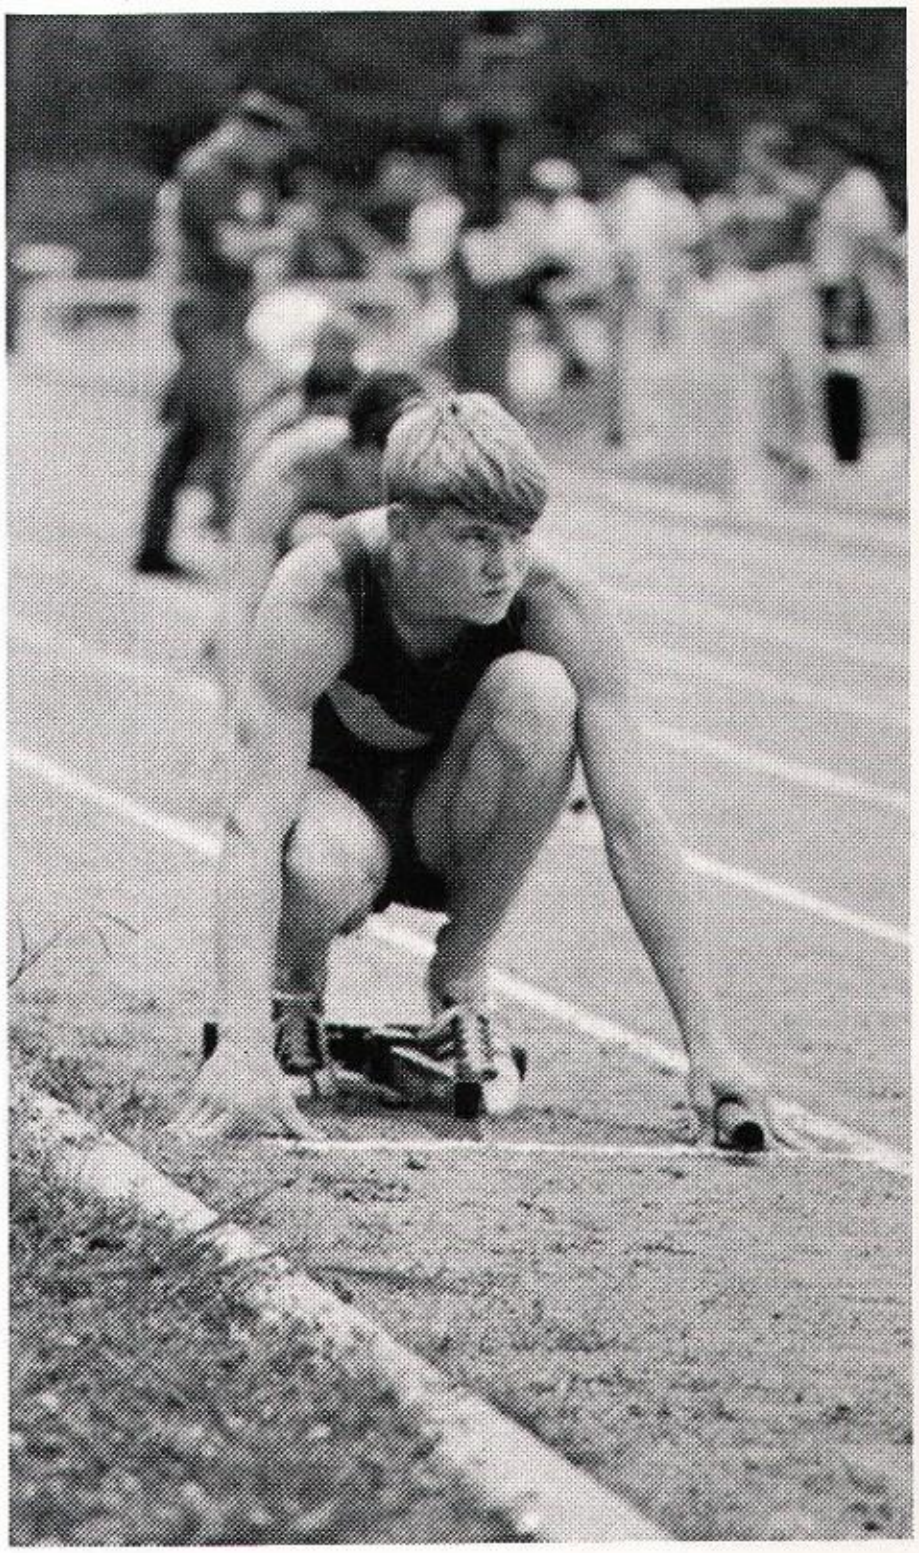
The memory of spirited processions to the football games . . .

The suspense of a ghost story on the long bus trip home . . .

The challenge to excel the tradition that others have left behind . . .



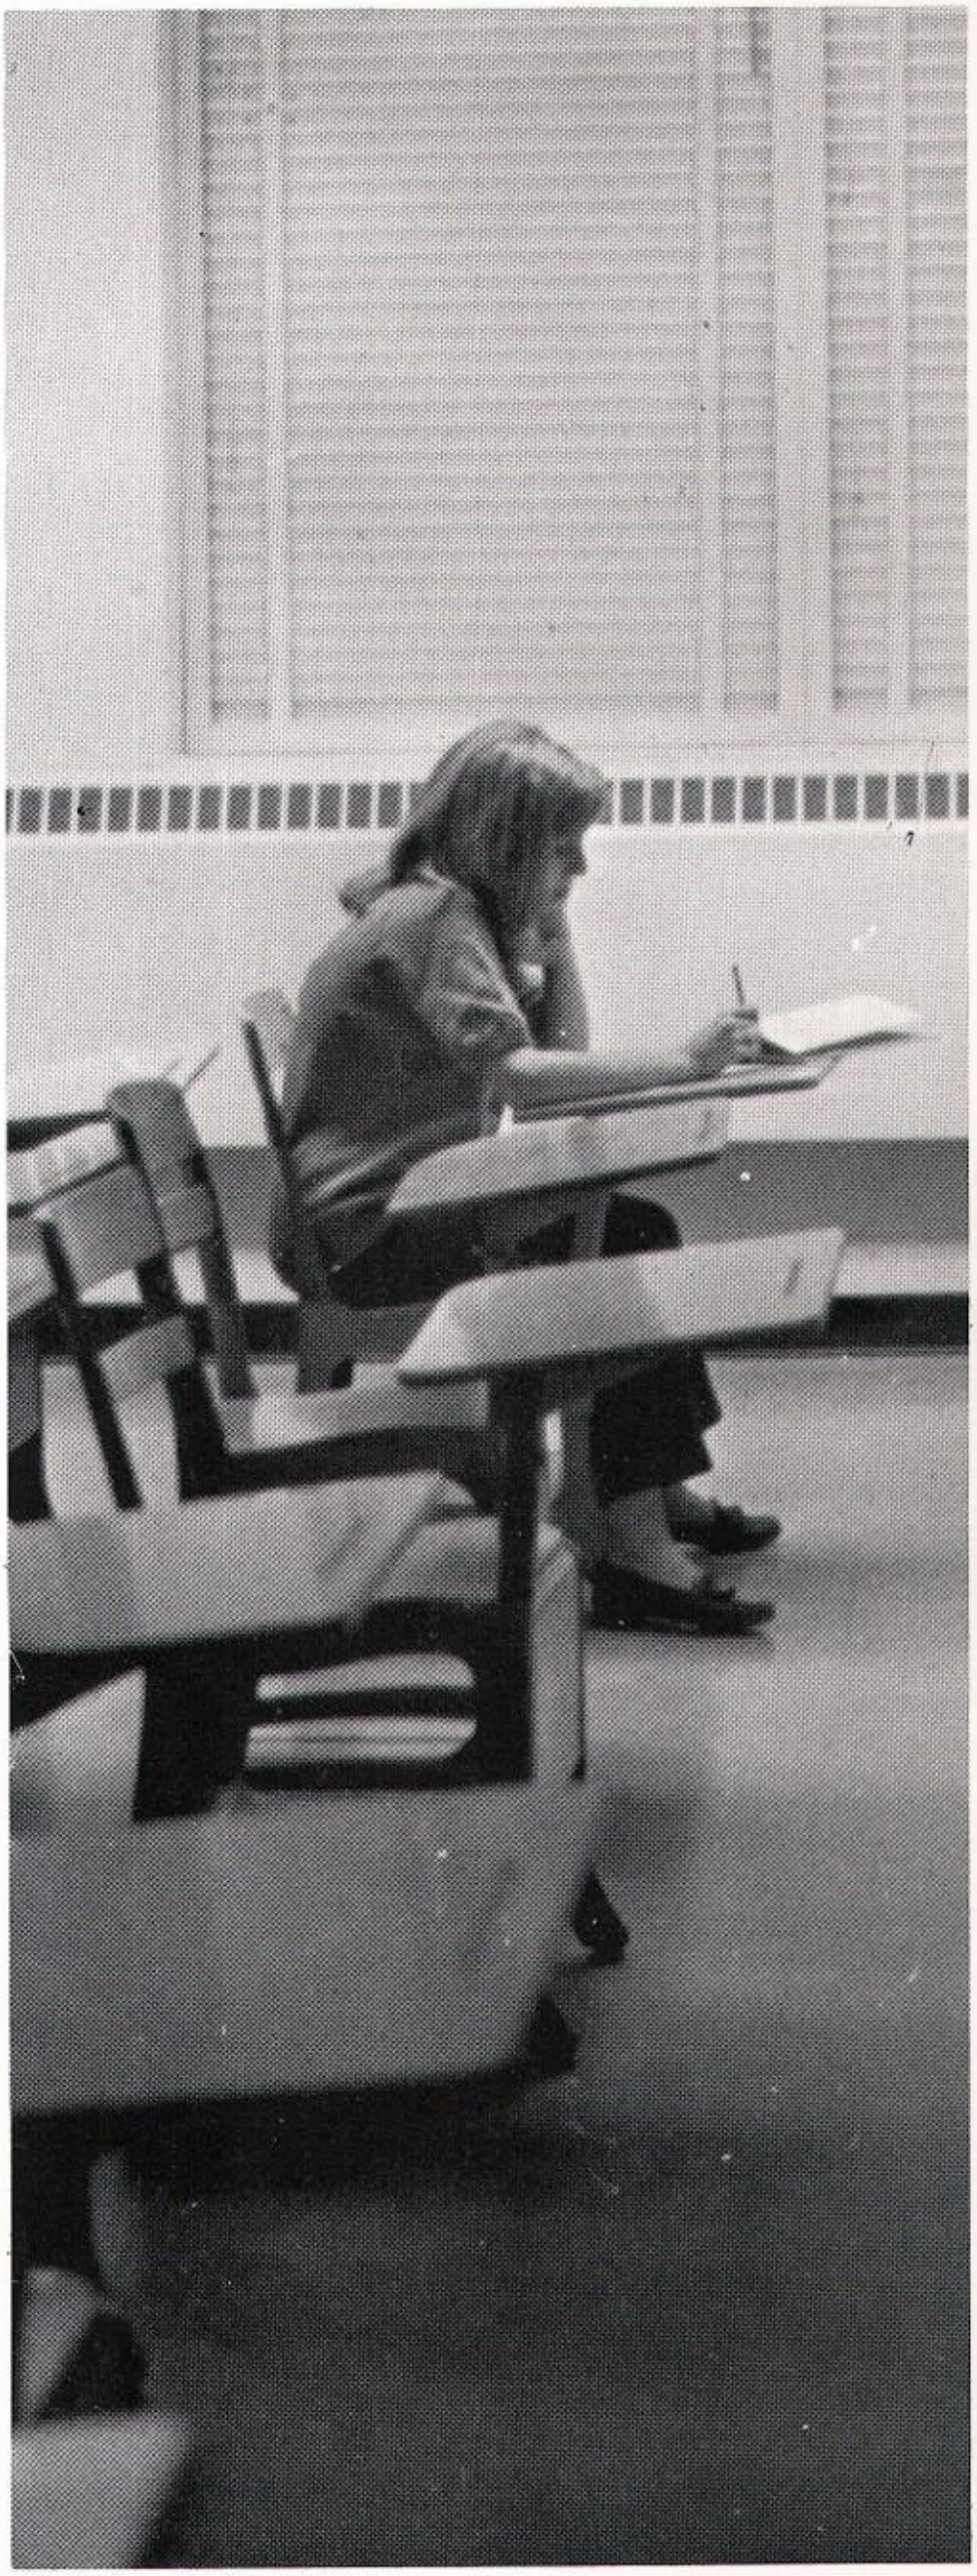




Accepting The Challenge

We face the future with open minds and a determination to do our best.

We shall cherish the memories of our days at Wingfield, but we shall ever look forward toward the challenge of a worthwhile, fruitful life.



Dedication

In a new school, everything is new—environment, faculty, friends, activities, worries, and problems. Along with the struggle to reach the highest goal possible there are numerous challenges which must be met. Although many of these remain unresolved, much progress has been made toward attaining the aim of an outstanding school. Starting with the mere framework of a dream, with only its potentiality to pave the road to success, this dream has become a reality through the tireless, never-ceasing efforts, of one dedicated individual. Though many have been a part of Wingfield's growth and development, there is one, the backbone of the constant struggle, whose encouragement and understanding have undergirded our efforts. Because of work for and with us—because of time and wisdom unselfishly given—it is with sincere respect and with deepest admiration that we dedicate the 1968 Rameur to our principal, Mr. D. T. Measells, Jr.

School Board Directs Educational Advancement

The gentlemen who serve on our school board are the planners for the future, the administrators and consultants, the efficiency experts and the managers of the Jackson Public School System. Their experience in dealing with the difficulties of young people, their wisdom and courage in meeting current social dilemmas, and their steadfastness in the face of criticism lead them in their own leadership of Jackson's fine schools.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES: J. C. Reed, Lamar J. Noble, Sr., Mrs. Howard Nichols, J. W. Underwood, C. H. King.

Commissioner Clark Horton

Mayor Allen C. Thompson

Commissioner Derwood Boyles

PTA OFFICERS: Mrs. J. B. Thompson, first vice president; Mrs. Kelly Dunn, third vice president; Mr. Robert W. King, president; Mr. Clayton Pope, treasurer.

Parent — Teacher Association First In State

Following Wingfield tradition for achieving excellence, the 1967-68 PTA had the largest membership in the state, with 1178 members. Under the leadership of Mr. Robert W. King, the PTA enjoyed a profitable and inspiring year.

It can sincerely be said that the PTA has achieved its objective, that being: "to weld a strong school and community spirit by helping our students to realize their fullest mental, moral, and physical potential."

Measells And McCarty Inspire Universal Respect

Because of years of experience in dealing with young people, and through their administrative skill and devotion to duty, our principal, Mr. Measells, and his assistant, Mr. McCarty, have been able to deal with the problems of high school students realistically and effectively. Requiring a combination of the skills of counselor, teacher, and administrator, these difficult capacities are essential in a school to be ranked with Mississippi's best. Certainly Wingfield is among these, and our fine leadership claims much credit in her rapid rise.

Secretaries Render Valuable Assistance

Sharing the burden of paperwork which finds its way into the offices at Wingfield are its three secretaries—Mrs. Anne Broome, Attendance Secretary; Mrs. Lucille Connell, Secretary to the Principal; and Mrs. Mildred Thomas, Secretary to the Counselors. Their task is almost continuous and requires speed and accuracy. Truly champions of their field, they are to be commended for their uncomplaining diligence. The courtesy of the secretaries is especially appreciated by all who find it necessary to ask assistance of them.

Counselors Prove Invaluable

Despite many other deficiencies, high school students are usually good at one thing at least—they complain often and loudly. Helping these unhappy people is the task of the counselors. They have the responsibility of molding character in preparation for college or work after graduation, and, at the same time, of keeping students interested and involved in school activities. This complex job, which calls for wisdom and dedication of the highest caliber, has been performed admirably this year through the cooperation of our fine counselors and student body.

English Recalls Cultural Heritage

The goal of any English Department is to instill in students a proper appreciation of their own language and cultural heritage. The variety of content in English courses during the high school years is very important in developing character among young adults. Along with the usual grammar study provided for students, sophomores engage in an introduction to various types of literature while Juniors devote their time to American literature and authors. Shakespeare and other English authors are studied by Seniors.

The teachers at Wingfield do an excellent job of introducing young people to literature and grammar and in maintaining their interest throughout a course.

With sincere aims of encouraging a sense of individual learning in students, all three courses provide excellent background for college-bound students.

Math Encourages Learning

Math, the mother of all other sciences, is an important part of the curriculums of all Wingfield students.

The Mathematics Department of Wingfield, under the direction of Mrs. McKee, offers a variety of courses ranging from Basic Math to Accelerated Math. While students in Basic Math are learning the fundamentals of mathematics, those taking Accelerated Math are preparing for college calculus.

The new math is still keeping teachers, as well as students, studying and trying harder than ever to master it.

Each mathematics course offered is designed to fit the future needs of any student and it is the aim of every teacher to convey to each student the pleasure and challenge of mathematics.

Social Studies Increases Worldly Knowledge

Producing responsible, civic-minded citizens is the overall objective of the social studies department at Wingfield. To achieve this goal, courses are offered ranging from ancient history to the complicated, crisis-stricken world of the present day. These divisions of study are highlighted by accredited films and acclaimed speakers who further extend the interests of the students beyond the classroom. An extracurricular organization stemming from the social studies department is the Junior Historical Society. This honor group is a credit to both our school and particularly to this section. Appointed chairman of the social studies department this year is Mr. Bill Caston, whose dedication and responsiveness to student needs have met all standards required to maintain the high level of education enjoyed by all students at Wingfield.

Science Encourages Exploration

While striving to understand that which awed, Wingfield students sought to broaden their minds through the field of science. To assist them with this conquest they were provided with some of the finest equipment as well as some of the most qualified teachers.

This year Wingfield was very fortunate to be one of the few schools in Mississippi that offered a program extending through advanced chemistry as studied in nearby colleges. Yes, our education was prepared for us and all we had to do was accept it. Our paths were made clear through exploring the uncertain, discovering the inevitable, and learning what makes this world tick.

Fine Arts Spice Academic Program

Composing the fine arts program at Wingfield are art, choral music, band, and speech. Participating students are provided with special training and instruction in the various fields. Under the capable direction of Mrs. Sims, talented art students learn to express themselves freely. Their work is exhibited in several art showings throughout the year including the Arts Festival in the spring. Students with musical inclination enjoy the study of choral music directed by Mrs. Massey. The concert choir comprised of selected members perform for group functions in and out of the state. For those interested in the instrumental aspects of the music program place special emphasis on the Falcon Band. Band Director, Mr. Arthur Goodsell, requires the needed ability and discipline from his band members to accomplish their first rate quality sound. The speech department actively devotes its time to the instruction of public speaking with ease. Students find fun in learning while composing and speaking under the instruction of Mrs. Rankin and Mrs. Sue Brooks.

P. E. Program Strives To Produce Healthy Young Adults

"All right, boys, lift those feet six inches off the ground!" These are words often heard resounding from the boys' side of the gym by Coach Buddy Bounds. The Physical Education Department strives to increase the strength and endurance of Wingfield's boys.

Working to help the girls achieve ten push-ups by the end of the year, Miss Moore and Miss Craig seem to stay busy. In addition to exercises they lead the girls in such sports as volleyball, basketball, softball, and the all-time favorite, jumping rope.

The physical education program's high goal of producing healthy young adults is achieved through the efforts of these capable instructors.

Cafeteria Staff Works Diligently

All the students gladly awaited the much needed lunch period when they could get away from it all. Providing an atmosphere of fellowship, the lunchroom was always ready to give that extra lift just when it was needed most. Wingfield's lunchroom workers met the massive demand of revival with their expert know-how under the capable leadership of Mrs. Elmer Russell. Meeting the challenge, the staff prepared well-balanced meals that were consumed heartily.

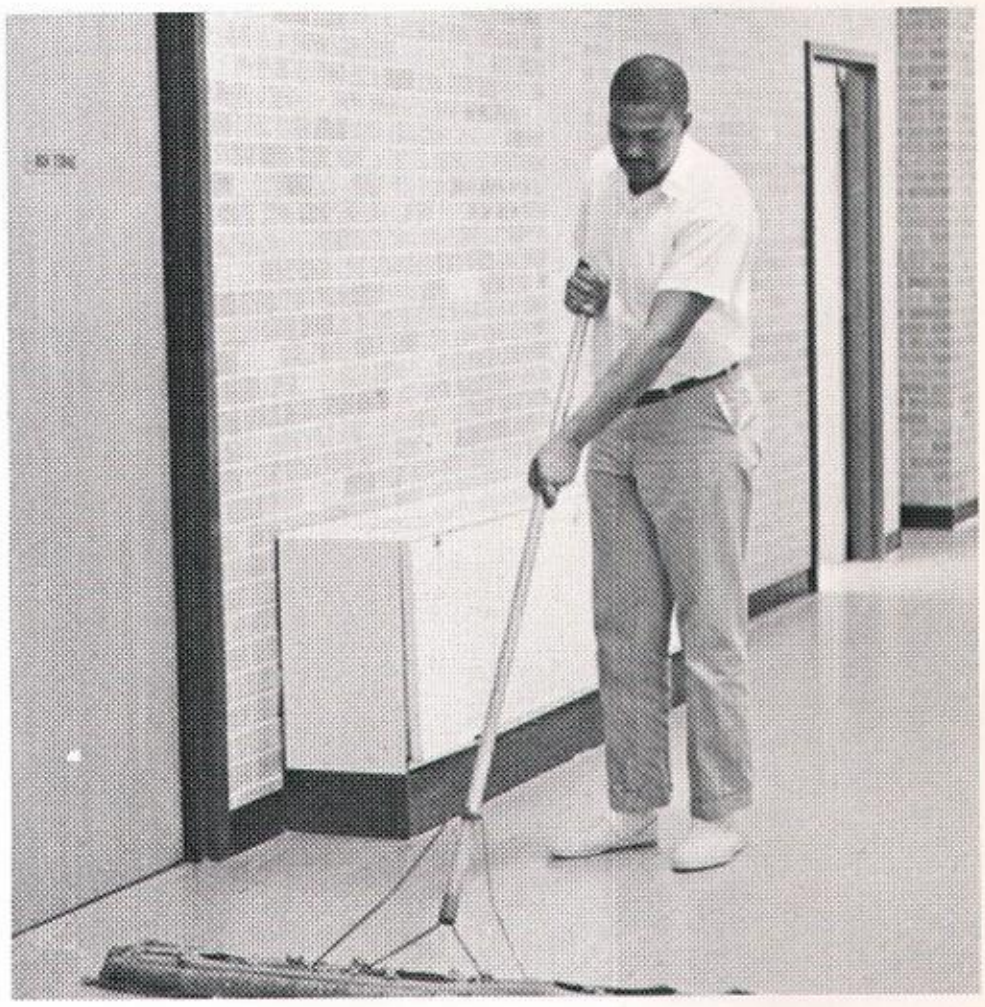
Custodians Maintain School Property

Responsible for the comfort and cleanliness of Wingfield's facilities is Wingfield's custodial staff. They constantly serve Wingfield and its students long hours each week to carry out their duties to the fullest extent. For this, Wingfield wishes to express their appreciation to the custodial staff.



Linnear and his staff work constantly for the betterment of school property.

Rameur Staff

Emphasizing student life, the Rameur staff strived to produce a meaningful account of the past year's activities. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Felix Collins and the leadership of co-editors Peggy Barnett and Paula Sanford, the annual staff hoped to captivate the true Wingfield Spirit.

In an effort to bring quality productions to Wingfield, the Rameur presented a Who's Who program and a beauty pageant. Representatives of the staff attended a national convention and toured Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas to obtain fresh ideas for the forthcoming annual. The Sophomore and Junior members will work with these suggestions to make next year's annual a continued success.

Wingspread Reflects Student Life

Keeping the student body at Wingfield informed of all school activities and functions, the Wingspread staff is to be congratulated for a job well done. The staff worked diligently toward not only making our school newspaper a success, but the best! Serving as staff advisor this year was Mrs. Janet Clark. An excellent job under the capable leadership of Evelyn Stewart, Wingspread editor, is to be highly accredited. Our students recognize this particular facet of our extracurricular activities at Wingfield as being not only a credit to our school, but a publication of quality resulting from dedication on the part of all Wingspread staff members.

Parnassus Inspires Students With Creative Ability

The Parnassus, Wingfield's literary magazine, presented an opportunity for students to make use of their abilities in the field of writing. The entries were divided into short stories, essays, sketches, and poems, and winning contributions were chosen by a staff selected from the English classes.

Student Council Guides School Activities

Emphasizing the importance of strong representation for the student body in the affairs of the school, the student council endeavored to sponsor worthwhile activities and provide a link of cooperation between the student body and the faculty, under the capable and energetic sponsorship of Mr. Dan Merritt. Council officers traveled many miles and attended numerous workshops and meetings to gain valuable information on Council affairs.

The Council coordinated Homecoming and Falcon Follies activities and supervised elections and honor points in the spring. Projects to promote school spirit, including prizes for the best decorated homeroom doors during football season, and the selection of the Boy- and Girl-of-the-Month ranked high on its list of accomplishments. One of its most successful undertakings was the collection of canned goods for the janitorial workers during the Christmas season. Highlighting the year was the presentation of a Talent Show to raise money for the Student Activity Fund, Character Emphasis Week in December, and the Teens Against Polio drive in January.

National Honor Society Engenders Scholastic Achievement

Consisting of Wingfield students who have maintained a minimum "B" average throughout their high school curricula, the National Honor Society experienced another eventful year. This club encouraged its members to keep their high grades consistent by endowing them with an enthusiastic attitude toward learning. Sponsor of the club for this year was Mr. Bill Caston, who performed an outstanding job. The National Honor Society looks forward to another year of instilling students with a more acute awareness of their responsibilities to a potentially rewarding future.

JCL Gives Insight To Classical Rome

One of the most active organizations at Wingfield is the Junior Classical League. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Suttle, the JCL has undertaken several entertaining functions. Leading off the year was the annual slave auction, in which all new members were sold as slaves to the other members of the JCL and the Faculty. The formal initiation took place in January for new members, followed by a reception for all members. A pizza party and the State Convention at Mississippi College were held in the spring. Completing a successful year will be the National Convention in Michigan, followed by a tour of Canada in August.

Senior David Dreher, state president of the JCL, and Debbie Etheridge examine various Latin projects.

MAΘ Excites Mathematical Interest

With a membership of a hundred sophomores, juniors, and seniors, the Mu Alpha Theta has had a busy year. The Wingfield Chapter of this nationwide honorary math club was sponsored by Mrs. Edna McKee.

Grade qualifications of an overall "B" average with a "B" in math were imposed on members.

The National Mathematics Examination and the monthly meetings kept members active. The meetings featured guest speakers and student prepared programs.

A field trip and the state convention at Murrah on March 23 highlighted the year for the Mu Alpha Theta.

JHS Recaptures Moments In History

Students of Wingfield who are interested in history and the heritage of their state find opportunities of additional study in their participation in the Junior Historical Society. Besides an active interest in history these students must have and maintain a B-average throughout the year.

Serving as sponsor this year, Mrs. Mary Brooks worked with the officers in planning a successful and active year. Trips to various historical sites of the state were planned to provide better understanding of local history. Other projects were planned to help in the understanding of the national government.

Concert Choir Activates Enthusiastic Attitude

Bringing music and laughter into the lives of many, the Concert Choir launched into a most successful second season. The 56-member choir, directed by Mrs. Barbara Massey, performed for many organizations and clubs around the state. The "Wanderers", a folk group from the choir, made several television appearances and participated in Teens Against Polio. Having sponsored several fund-raising projects, the choir traveled to Washington, D.C., and New York, on a six-day tour in early May.

Band Deepens Appreciation For Music

Stimulating an interest in classical music and promoting school spirit through lively marches, the Wingfield High School Band, under the capable leadership of Mr. Arthur Goodsell, began its second season.

The Band has given several concerts for the benefit of our community and student body. For these performances, several of the Jackson junior high school bands were invited as participants.

Representing Wingfield in the Greenwood Band Festival, the John Bell Williams Inauguration Parade, the State Band Contest, all Falcon football games and on various other occasions, the band has certainly done its part in representing the blue-and-gold with outstanding performances.

The students and Band Boosters Club sponsored a very successful spaghetti supper, which provided the band with adequate facilities and funds to carry on its excellent work.

Champions — The Team Called "Desire"

Called the team of desire, the 1967 Wingfield football team, under the leadership of "Coach of the Year" A. J. Kilpatrick, had a highly successful season as they fought their way to the South—Big Eight championship and an invitation to the Kiwanis Magnolia Bowl. Loyal Falcon fans and the team itself will remember the 1967 season for many years.

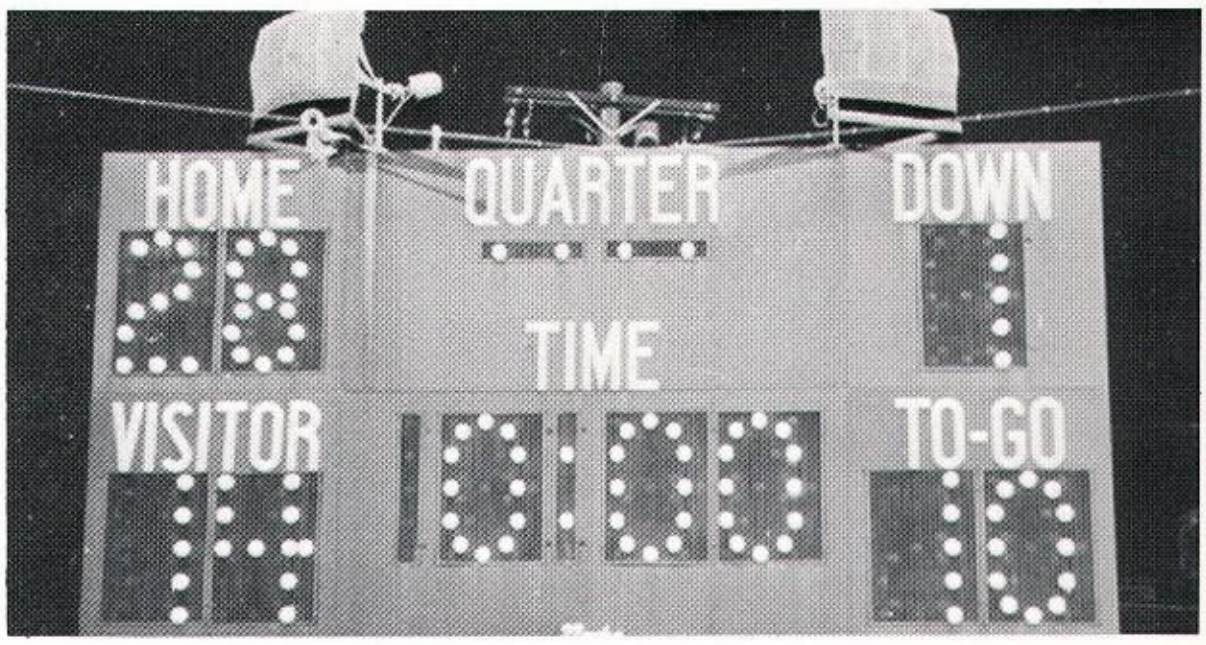
Tailback Bo Janos (20) runs with tough determination.

First Game Sets Pace

The first game of the season was a decisive victory for Wingfield. The Falcons, under the direction of A. J. Kilpatrick, defeated McComb with a score of 28-14.

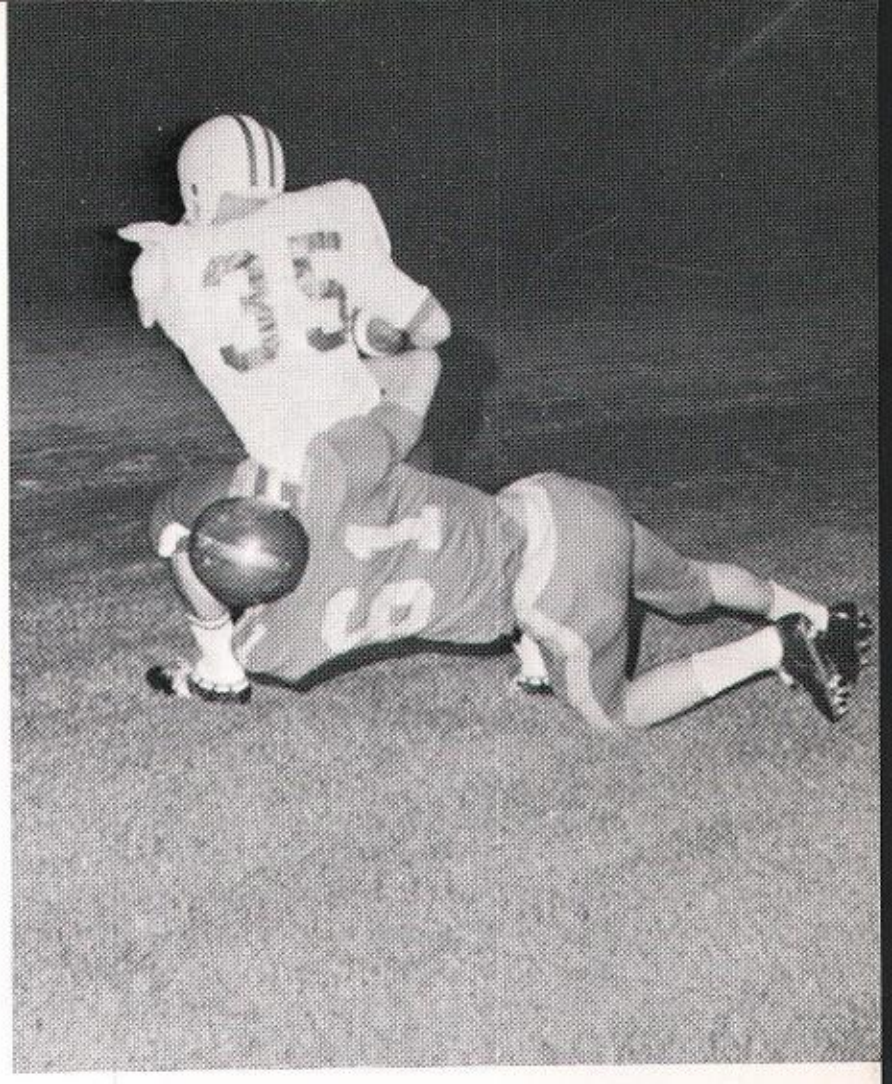
A touchdown by Gary Thrash and an unbelievable 45 yard field goal by Danny Slay put the Wingfield team in the lead at half time. They came back in the second half to secure victory, scoring on runs by Sullivan, Janos, and a pass interception and return by Most Outstanding Player, Mickey Parker.



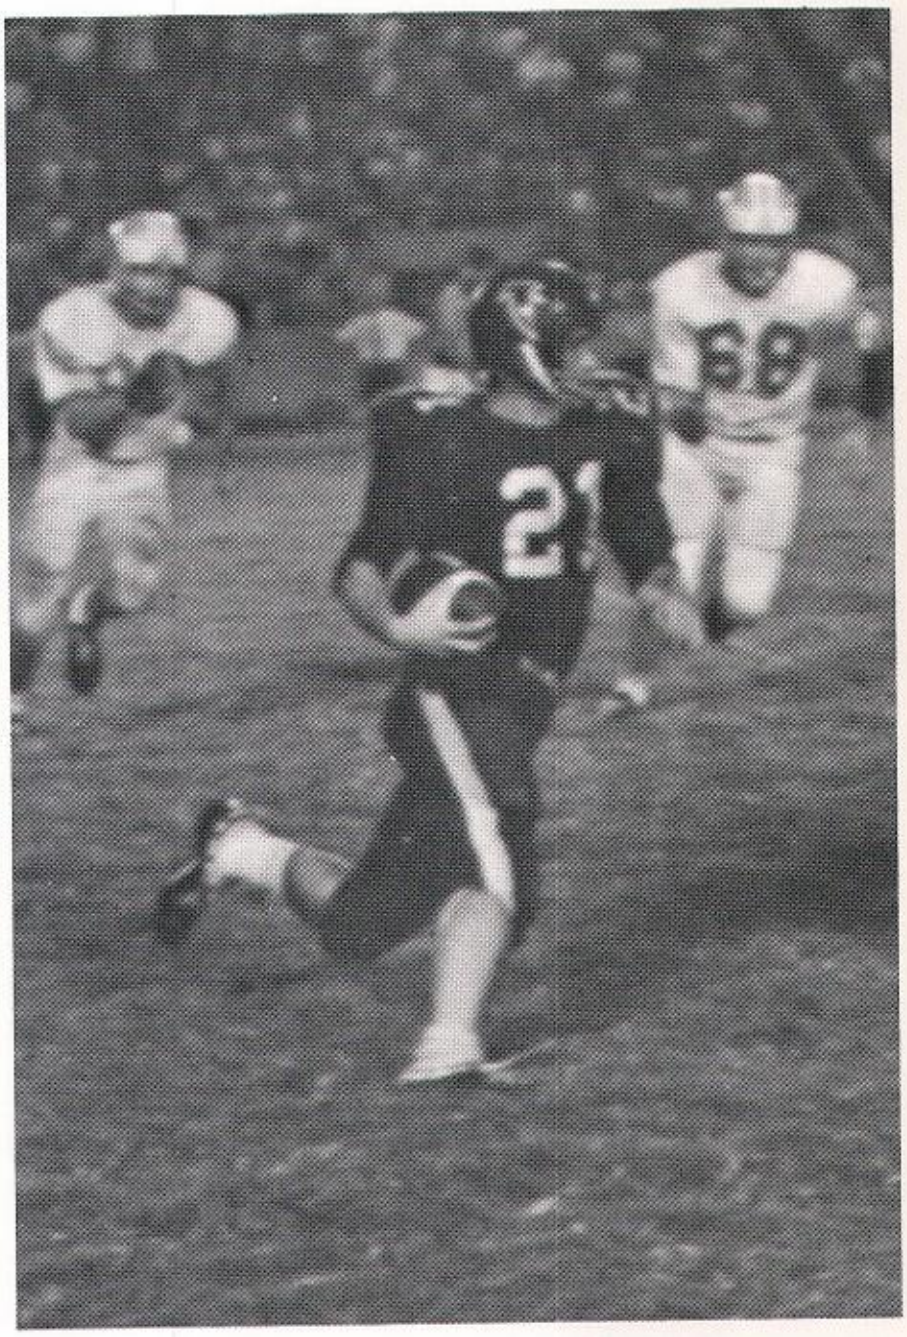
Falcons Fall To Greenies 0-7; Dump G'port 13-0

Marked by outstanding defensive work by the Falcons the Vicksburg game was a thriller to the last minutes of the game. It was an even battle with neither team scoring until the closing moments when the Greenies recovered a Wingfield fumble and scored a few plays later to take a 7-0 victory.

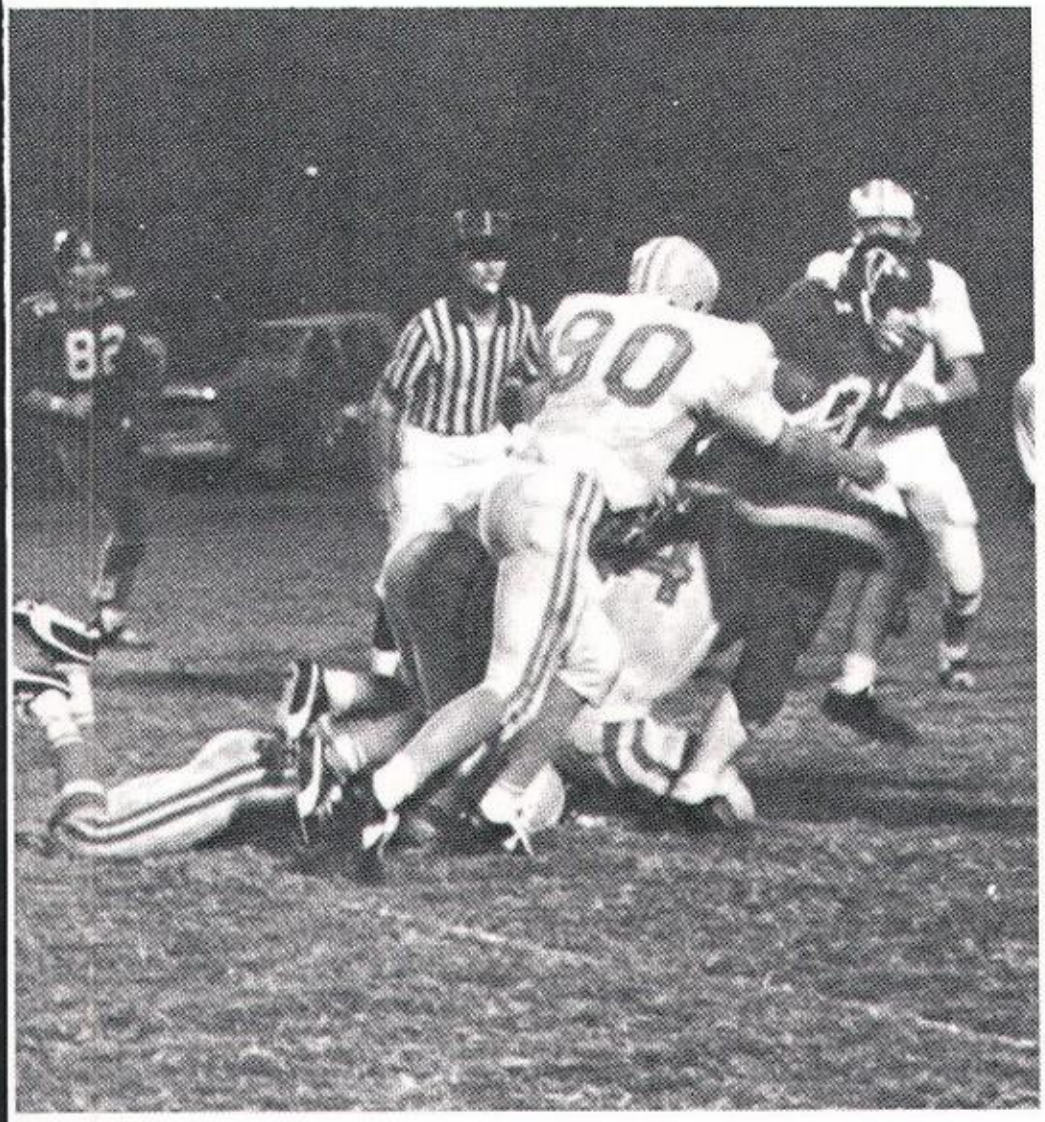
Scoring the second time it had the ball the spirited Wingfield team defeated the Gulfport East Vikings by a score of 13-0. Gary Thrash swept the right end in the first quarter for the first touchdown and Jimmy Jackson, behind the blocking of the right side of the line, bullied his way to pay dirt for the final score.



Guard Harold Winborne makes a crowd-pleasing tackle.



Danny Slay carries pigskin with good form.



Fullback Jimmy Jackson (31) crashes to within inches of the goal line.

Wingfield Edges Picayune 14-13

Wingfield scored twice in the second half to win the Picayune game 14-13. Picayune led at the half 7-0, but the Falcons came back with necessary scores to emerge victorious. Both scores were Dennis to Parker pass plays, the first of which covered 75 yards. Slay added the two all important extra points. This game sent the Falcons well on their way to the South Big Eight Crown.

End Mickey Parker (82) reaches to catch a Dennis pass.

Danny Slay boots the all important extra point.

David Wade (88) and Robert Johnson (66) bring down Picayune man.

Falcons Fly High Over Callaway Chargers

Wingfield	21
Callaway	0

When Callaway was forced to punt on the first series of downs, determined Bo Janos returned the ball 86 yards for a touchdown. Callaway then made a threat by moving to the Falcon 9 yard line, but were stopped there by good defensive work by the Falcons. Wingfield drove the ball the length of the field with much of the yardage accounted for by passes from Player of the Week, Bob Dennis. Bo, behind the blocking of the rugged Falcon line, ran the touchdown which topped off the drive. Dennis later hit Parker with a pass for the last score.

A Hard Fought Battle

Murrah	13

When the No. 1 team in the South met the No. 1 team in the North, sparks were sure to fly and they did. In a vicious battle, both teams were forced to surrender the ball several times early in the game without a serious threat. Murrah initiated a drive but it was spoiled by a tackle by Tim House which gave the Mustangs a 12-yard loss. Then the Falcons managed a drive and moved the ball to the Murrah 37 by carries mainly by Slay. The drive ended on a Falcon fumble. Several series of downs later, Murrah started a drive which ended in a touchdown for them in the last 12 seconds of the half.

The entire third quarter was a defensive battle with neither team penetrating much. In the fourth quarter after a 62-yard punt the Mustangs moved the ball for another score to edge the Falcons with a score of 13-0. Even though the Falcons lost, they made Murrah's rating drop and their own to rise.

Provine Crushed By Kilpatrick's Falcons

Wingfield	35

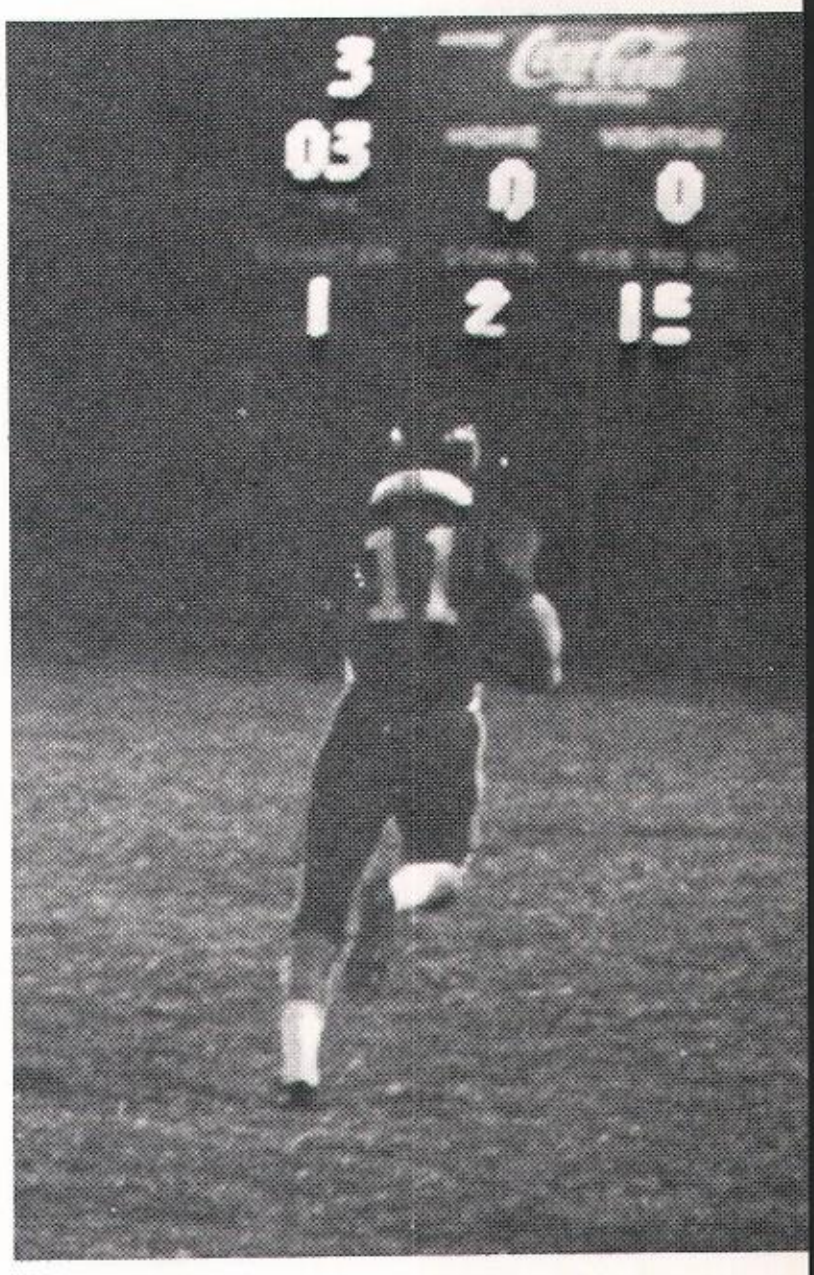
With their usual great style the Falcons started rapidly against the Rams to finish the night with a 35-0 victory.

To cap a drive by runs of Slay, Thrash, and Janos the Wingfield team scored with a 38 yard touchdown pass to Parker. Jimmy Sullivan, Gary Thrash, and Danny Slay scored the remaining times against the Rams in an exciting game that proved to be memorable to many loyal Falcons.



Thrash runs for a sure score.

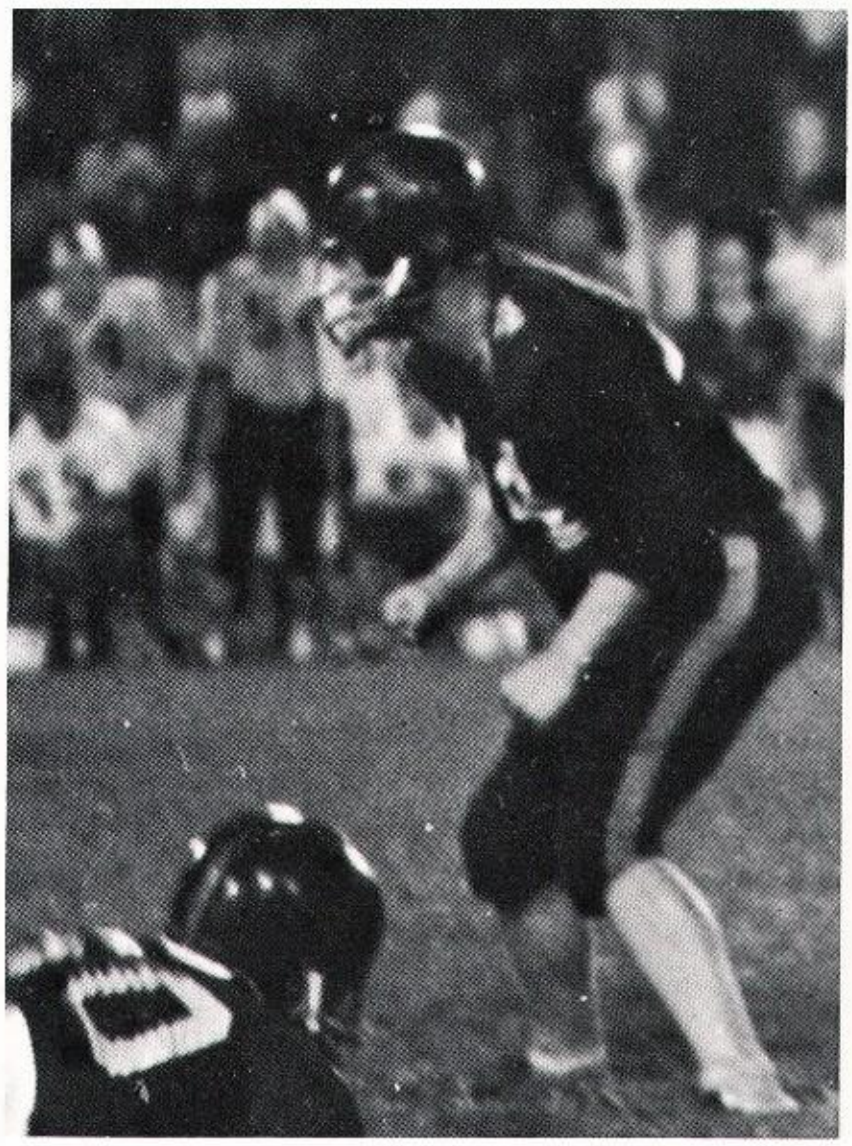
Falcons Whip Brookhaven 26-0 In Homecoming Tilt

The Falcons defeated Brookhaven as an excited Homecoming crowd looked on. On Wingfield's second play Gary Thrash threw a pass to Bo Janos and with three defenders between him and the goal line, he managed to get past all of them to score. In the next quarter, Janos again scored with a sweep around the right end. In the third quarter, Mike Ferris intercepted a pass which put the Falcons in good field position. In the fourth quarter, Mickey Parker, "Most Outstanding Player" on the Falcon team, stole a Brookhaven pass and moments later Bill Singletary caught a pass and with terrific second effort, broke away from would be tacklers for a 57-yard touchdown.



"Just try and get past me!" says tackle Tim House.

Our Finest Hour

Wingfield	46
Natchez	7

Playing Natchez for their last South—Big 8 game of the season and needing a victory for the division crown the Fighting Falcons defeated Natchez with an impressive score of 46-7. On the first set of downs the onlooking Falcons, sitting under blankets in the cold, watched excitedly as Thrash ran around left end then reversed the field and sprinted down the right sideline for a 63 yard score. Slay booted the PAT. Still in the first quarter, Slay climaxed a drive with a 2 yard touchdown for a score. After Billy Williams recovered a fumble Dennis connected with Parker for another score. Janos, Slay, and Sullivan scored in the third quarter. Sullivan scored after Robert Johnson recovered a Natchez fumble. In the fourth quarter Harold Winborne intercepted a pass and returned it 63 yards for a score with only seconds left in the game. The Falcon defense allowed only 50 yards.

Central Game Ends With Deadlock

Wingfield	7
Central	7

The Falcons got a slow start as the Tigers scored in the first quarter and held their 7-0 lead until the 4th quarter. The game was largely a defensive battle and the Falcon defense really shined. The Falcons started a scoring drive in the 3rd quarter with a pass from Dennis to Parker which put the Falcons on the 17. Sullivan, Jackson, and Slay added crucial yardage to the drive behind excellent blocking from the Falcon line which put the team in position for Slay to dive over from the 1 yard line for a score. Slay booted the all important extra point but because the Falcons were unable to score again, the game ended in a 7-7 tie.

Falcons Travel To Bowl Game

Wingfield	20
Tupelo	20

On a cold, damp night the Falcons met Tupelo on the turf at Columbus Magnolia Bowl. Bo Janos played a magnificent game as he and Danny Slay scored in the second quarter to tie the score at halftime.

Tupelo scored early in the fourth quarter and the Falcons made a tremendous drive from their own 33 yard line. The drive culminated on a life or death fourth down play. Two consecutive time outs were called by the Falcons so that they would be sure to call the right play. It was a pass to Parker which was good and Slay's kick tied the game 20-20. Later the Falcons missed a 45 yard field goal attempt which would have broken the tie.

Falcons Shine in Tournament Play

Racking up a 16-game winning streak, the team won the Murrah Tournament by wins over Callaway, Murrah, and Central. They won the Rebel Classic by victories over Brandon, Forest Hill, and Central. In the Hinds County Tournament they defeated Murrah and Provine, but lost by a narrow margin of 43-41 to Forest Hill to take second place in the county.

Successful Tournament Play Provides Opportunity for State Championship

Beating Provine in the first game of the South Big Eight Tournament the Falcons were overcome by a last period rally by the Brookhaven Panthers by a score of 44-42. In the consolation game that night they were beaten by Gulfport East. They came back the following week to slaughter Yazoo City by a 30 point margin in their first game in the sub-district tournament. They went on to first place in that tournament by victories over Provine and Vicksburg. The team was downed by Florence in the final game of the District 6 Tournament to take second place.

Having placed in District 6 competition, the Falcons went on to the South Mississippi Tournament to grab a victory over Hattisburg in a double overtime battle. They traveled to the coliseum looking toward the State Championship.

MISS DARLENE DYAR, 1967 Homecoming Queen

Homecoming Highlights Season

Wingfield's victory over Brookhaven on October 27 was punctuated by the Falcons' first Homecoming Court, which was presented by the band at half-time. Seven of the prettiest girls in Jackson were escorted onto the field as their schoolmates watched from the stands. Excitement mounted slowly until the climax, when Miss Darlene Dyar was crowned Queen of the Homecoming Court by last year's queen, Jackie Guess.

Following the game the homecoming festivities were continued into the night with a dance for students at Shady Oaks Country Club.

Cheerleaders Begin Tradition

Bubbling with enthusiasm to make Wingfield High School the very best of all time by boosting school spirit, promoting pep ribbon sales, and plastering the halls with banners were Wingfield's nine vivacious cheerleaders.

Constant everyday practice during the summer months was the only answer to perfection which paid off well in the Ole Miss Cheerleading Camp. From camp, they proudly brought back three second place ribbons, and a third place ribbon. A most memorable and rewarding week was the motivation needed to lead the group on throughout the year as the Falcons proved their capability.

With spirited determination and a strong will to give of their best toward the honor of Wingfield, the cheerleaders have become a symbol of tireless effort and devotion to the Falcon team.

Assemblies Add Variety To Student Life

Playing a large part in student life at Wingfield, assemblies were carefully planned in order to appeal to all segments of the student body. The programs varied from the "Character Emphasis Week" speakers to the film, Mr. Roberts.

Many athletic awards and letters were presented in addition to the trophies gained in this our second year of effort.

A unique highlight of homecoming was having the girls of Wingfield's first Homecoming court presented during homeroom.

Seniors Appear Amid Colorful Sets

As the play begins, the Honorable Roty is upset. His eldest daughter, Kay Roty, refuses to get married. In desperation he decides that since tomorrow is her birthday, she will wear a dress for the first time.

The market on Grand Avenue is humming as the day begins. Two American teachers enter, arguing violently. Soon Kay Roty and her father enter, also arguing. Suddenly their rickshaw runs over one of the Americans. To make up for the accident, the Honorable Roty invites them to Kay's birthday party.

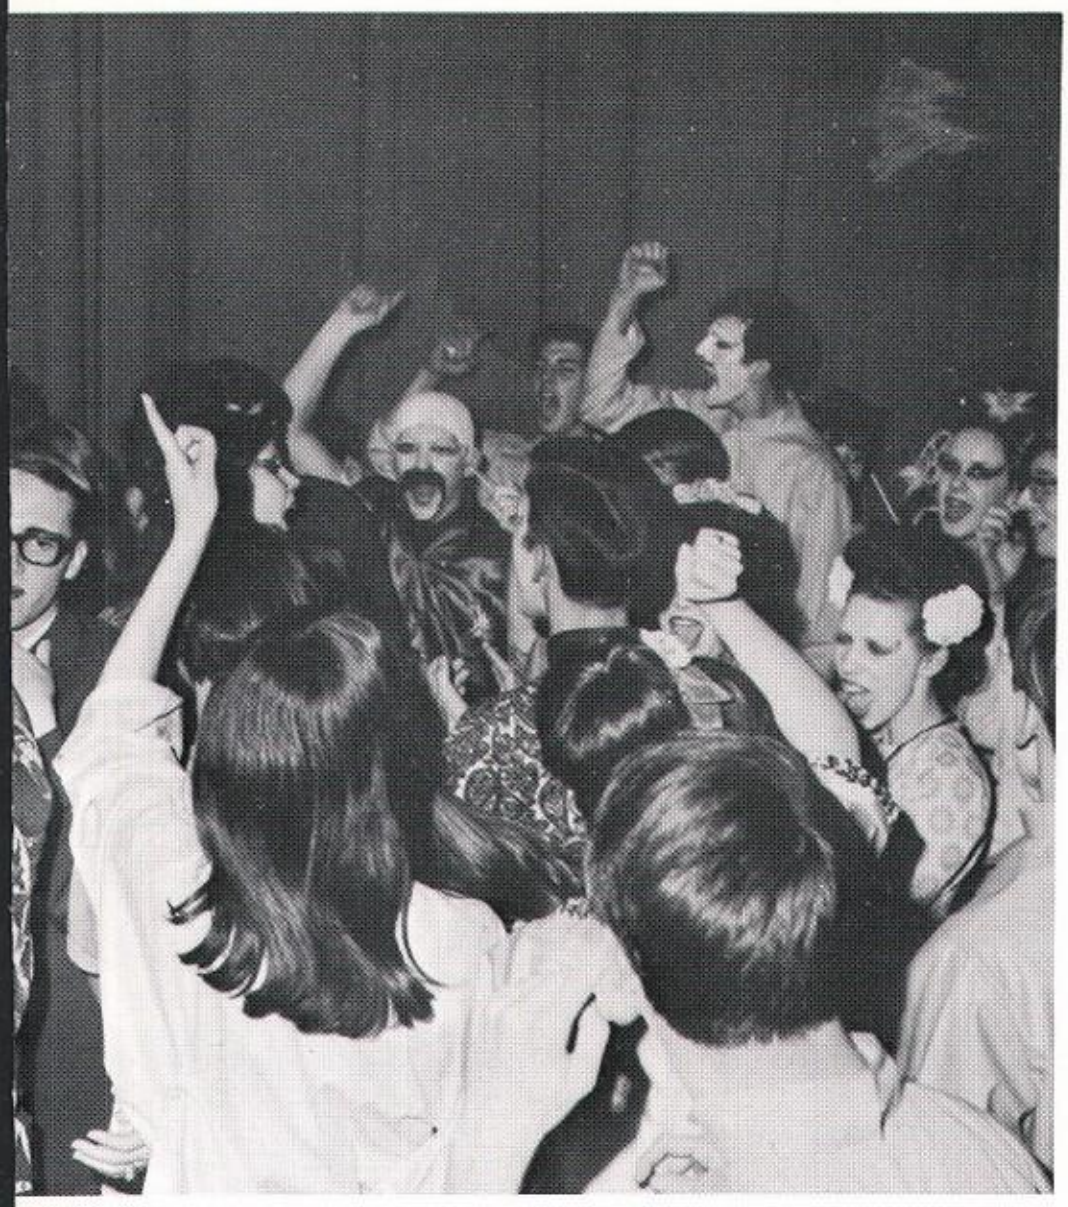
The party is in full swing by the time the Americans arrive. Suddenly everyone is dumbfounded as Kay enters wearing her first dress. After moments of confusion, Kay rushes to the man of her dreams, and the Honorable Roty leads the general rejoicing.

"Presenting most honorable daughter, Kay Roty."

"Ha-a-a ... ha-a-a-a ... ha-a-a ... ha-a."

"Just don't fool with me again, Skinny Legs!"

"You'd never believe I got this hat for ten cents ... i Tokyo!"



"It's a bird, it's a plane, it's . . ."

"You were great!"

"She purty nice cookie."

"He went thisaway." "No, he went thataway."

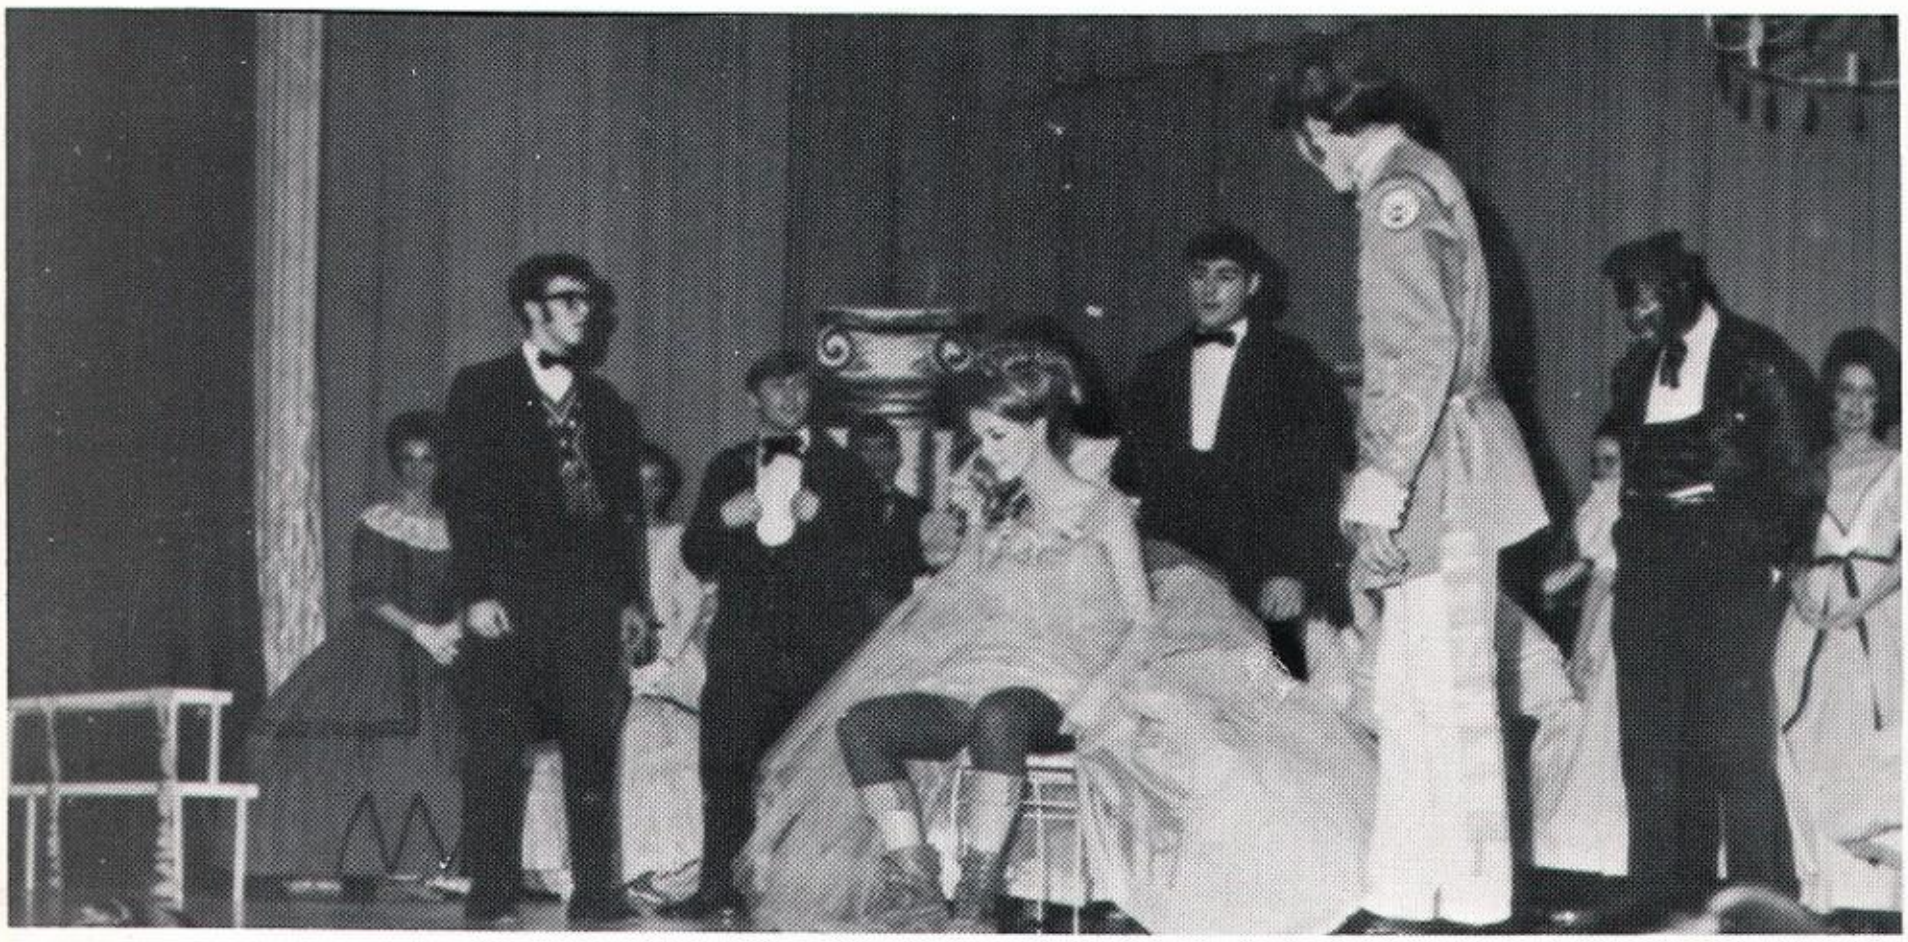
Juniors Give Rise To South

Picture yourself back in the days of the grand and glorious Old South. As the scene opens, the crowded ballroom of Colonel Blossom's plantation home is filled with anticipation of the arrival of Governor and Mrs. Turnipseed. Charles, the governor's son, is anxious to see his sweetheart, Magnolia Blossom, who couldn't care less for Charles or the ball. All Magnolia wants to do is play cards. News of the coming Mississippi Riverboat excites the guests as a rumor concerning a daring Yankee gambler spreads throughout the crowd.

Rhythm sets the mood as the plantation workers sarcastically imitate the Blossom's "big bash" the night before. Lulu, Magnolia's mammy, frantically questions the laborers as to the whereabouts of Maggie. Consoling Mammy, they agree to help in the search.

Magnolia challenges the Yank to a round of cards, proving her ability in the game. As all good stories should end, the North comes over to the South with the final strain of "Are You for Dixie?"

"Look, chillen, I ain't got no moe time to fix you no shortenbrea



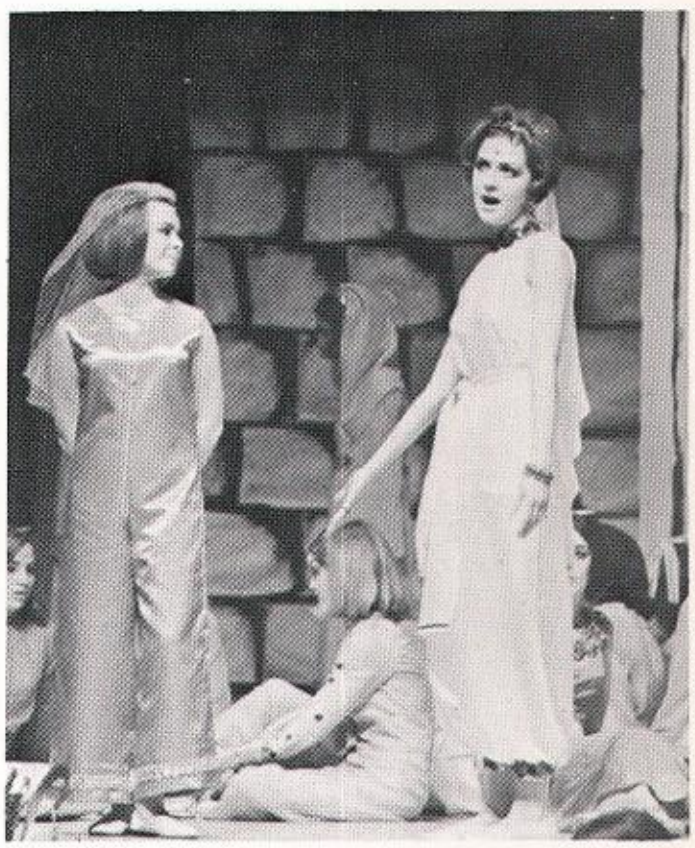
"Why DAYUDY, I just plumb forgot to take 'em off!!!!"

"HOORAY FOR DIXIE!!!"

"Ya right. Ya ain't got uh disfigured face . YET!"

"I should have used Scope."

"Freeze! I hear the Israelis."



"Well, the way I heard it ..."

Sophs Make Debut With Arabian Skit

Wide-eyed and inexperienced, the Sophomores ventured into a world of the unknown as they met up with the challenges of staging their first class production.

"OK guys. Who has the jewels?" In the Sophomore skit of Wingfield's annual Falcon Follies, Bomar Kayham, great sultan of Arabia, broods over the main conflict in their skit, "Who Done It?" Convinced that one of his many wives is the thief, he calls Arabia's two greatest detectives, Abdul and Filbert, to the rescue. Through the ace ability of Abdul and Filbert, it is suspected that Fatima, Bomar's favorite wife, is the culprit. She must be beheaded according to the law of the kingdom. Fatima is brought in to the executioner where she speaks her last words. Just in the nick of time the real thief is discovered by Filbert and happiness is once again restored to the kingdom.

"You're shedding!"

Y-Teens Encourage Worthwhile Projects

Wingfield's Y-Teens Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Carol Madden, planned a full year of helping others. Their activities included many projects for the needy and underprivileged.

By promoting high standards of Christian living and instilling Christian ideals in Wingfield girls, the Y-Teens proved an asset not only to Wingfield, but to the entire community.

These three are discussing future Y-Teen plans.

Future Nurses And Future Teachers Clubs Encourage Planning Ahead

Thinking seriously on their life's work members of the Future Nurses and the Future Teachers Clubs hoped to uncover facts about their careers that would be of vital importance in planning their schedules for college. Throughout the year various speakers encouraged these members and projected a realistic view of the particular professions.

Sponsors, Mrs. Stubblefield of Future Nurses and Mr. Jerry Berry of Future Teachers, helped to guide the members in deciding what kind of leaders they would be.

The Hunting And Fishing Club And The Golf Club Foster Interest In Out-of-Doors

With one hundred twenty members, sophs, juniors and seniors, the Hunting and Fishing Club was one of the largest clubs at Wingfield. The club, sponsored by Mr. Burns, Mr. Kennedy, and Coach Bounds, was subdivided into smaller groups because of space.

Films of hunting, wildlife, and conservation composed the programs with occasional guest speakers for the Hunting and Fishing Club.

Sponsored by Mr. Kurts and having twenty-seven members, the Golf Club was made up of the golf team and anyone else interested in the sport.

Golfing tips, instruction, and practice were among the activities enjoyed by the enthusiastic members.

Talon And Art Clubs Boost Falcon Pride

Students interested in developing their artistic talents were given a choice in the type of club they wished to join. The Art Club, sponsored by Miss Linda Berry, was organized to provide an opportunity for students to study art who wished to spend more time working with art or for those who didn't take art as a regular subject. Several projects such as a Christmas Decoration contest and providing decorations for a local hospital were planned by the club.

The Talon Club, helping boost school spirit, was sponsored by Miss Margaret Moore and Mrs. Mildred Sims. The main purpose of the club was to help the cheerleaders by painting the numerous signs and banners used to support the Falcons.

"Cut out that racket. Can't you see I'm trying to read?"

Clubs Offer a Means of Communication

Just as every intelligent individual has his own medium of communication, each worthwhile group must be able to speak effectively in its own way. The Public Relations Club may seek to help men through persuasion; the stage band may work to spread its message by means of music; the Spanish Club may broaden its members by travel and study of a foreign people; but all offer the same thing—a channel of interpretation and growth for all participants.

Wingfield news was covered well by Public Relations Club.

Clubs Expand Educational Opportunities

Exciting these boys' different interests, the clubs offer a rewarding pastime form the strenuous routine of school.

Here the gym club provides these boys with an appropriate atmosphere for doing what they like most. But, of course, others had rather spend their time satisfying their inner curiosities by experimenting with formulas of math or science. Whatever their interests, these clubs provide ample opportunity for each to develop his talents.

Engineering theories are discussed by members of the JETS Club.

"You want to buy some peanuts?"

Clubs Offer Profitable Opportunities

Club organizations are intended to give members a chance to develop profitable abilities through involvement in practical projects.

By participating in worthwhile activities, Wingfield's young people built those qualities of personality which would serve them well in later years. Y-Teens spent a Saturday afternoon selling peanuts for the March of Dimes; other students learned to write creatively, to play the guitar, or to play chess —and by so doing they gained the patience and skill necessary in community leaders.

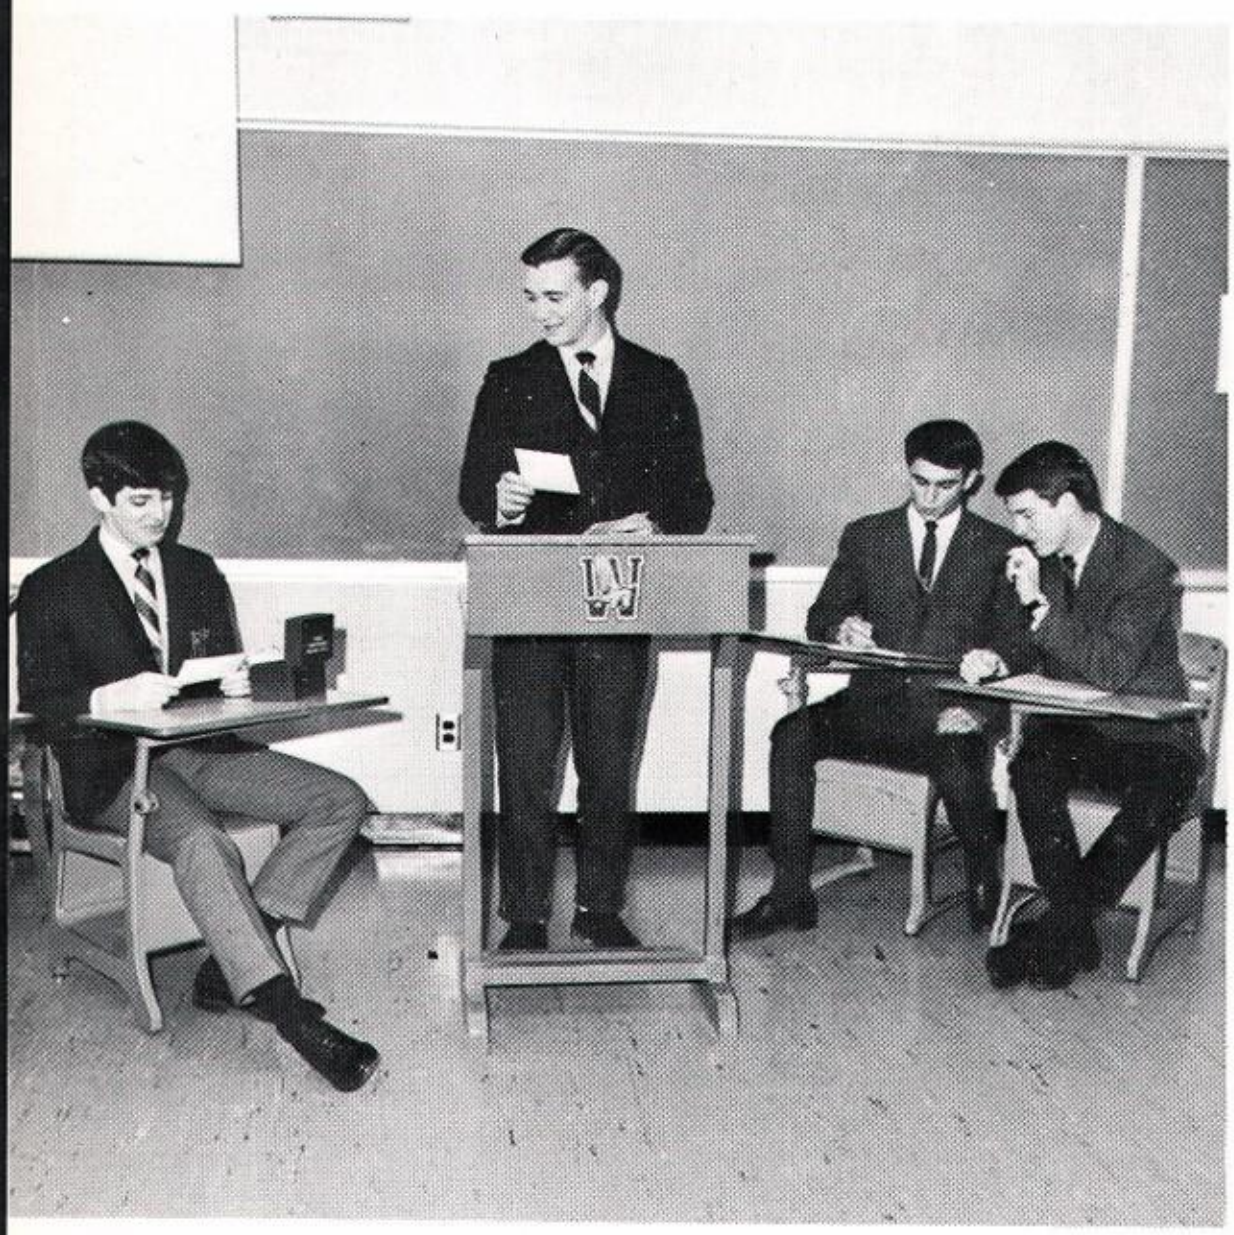
The Hall Of Fame

To be selected to the Hall of Fame is one of the highest honors that can be given a Wingfield senior. Nominated by the Student Council and selected by the faculty, the members of the Hall of Fame were chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, spirit, and dedication.

The members of the Hall of Fame are Paula Sanford, Editor of the Rameur; William Justice, Vice-president of the Student Body; Peggy Barnett, Miss Senior Class; Nancy Shook, Miss Wingfield; Steve Leech, President of the Student Body; and Evelyn Stewart, Editor of the Wingspread.

DEBATE TEAM: Mrs. Brooks, sponsor, Robert McAdory, Johnny Jones, Joe Lott, Steve Leach, Johnny Leach, Robert Farr, Gary Thrash, Jerry McBride, Richard Roper, and Steve Yates.



"What should I say now, Joe?"

Debate Team Speaks Out

Carrying the colors of Wingfield into the debate arena, the Debate team, sponsored by Mrs. Sue Brooks made an excellent record throughout the state. Attending such heavy competition as the Tornado, Provine, Magnolia (at M.S.C.W.), and Callaway invitational debate tournaments, the team won several trophies and superior awards in speaking and platform events. The debaters worked long hours perfecting speaking techniques and compiling information for the state topic "Resolved: that Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures." The hard work and determination paid off as the team ended the season with an excellent record.

Beauty Pageant Enchants Audience

Many weeks of work and worry preceded the Second Annual Beauty Pageant held by the Rameur Staff on January 8.

Fifteen girls selected by the Senior Class appeared in three different outfits: sportswear, schoolwear, and evening wear. Each girl was judged in three categories: poise, suitability of clothing, and beauty. Serving as judges were Mrs. Alon Bee, director of Hinds Hi-Steppers, Mrs. Jan Nave Wilson, former Miss Jackson, and Representative "Buffy" Beach.

Jim Mack, local radio deejay, acted as Master of Ceremonies. He introduced each contestant, relating her hobbies, past honors and present activities in which she participates.

While the girls changed attire, the audience was entertained by "Lane 'n' Lee", a duet, Norma Goodson, folk singer, and the Herb Lamb Trio, a local jazz group.

The height of excitement reached its peak when Most Beautiful and the three beauties were announced. Another pageant overflowing with the grace and charm of beauty at its best had come to a climactic conclusion.

A new life awaits.
All that is to come
Presents a challenge.
Welcome.
